BINYAM MEZEMIR

Hello! I'm Binyam Mezemir, a software engineering student with some creative side. I enjoy blending technology with art and creating scripts that make life easier.

A bit about me

I am a curious individual who loves exploring new technologies and applying them creatively. My journey in software engineering has been an exciting blend of technical learning and artistic expression. I believe that good design and functional technology go hand in hand.
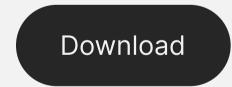

Outside of coding, I spend time bringing ideas to life through drawing and animation, often merging these interests to visualize concepts and projects more effectively. Problem-solving and continuous learning are my driving forces.

Hobbies

- Drawing
- Writing scripts
- Animating

Download resume

If you'd like to learn more about my professional journey and skills, feel free to download my resume below.

Download

Telegram

Email

Github

Sitemap

Profile

Projects

Blogs

Contacts